Dwarf Sweet William

DWARF SWEET WILLIAM [Dianthus barbatus alpina compacta]

A very showy compact plant growing not over six inches tall. Covered with broad flat flowers in June and July in a wide assortment of mixed colors. Makes a neat border plant for the perennial garden and very choice for the rockery. We offer it for the first time this spring.

30c each, $3.00 doz., $22.00 per 100.

ORIENTAL POPPIES

Tremendous cup-shaped blooms of the brightest colors with large black blotches at the base of petals creating a wonderful contrast when bloom is fully opened. Clumps of these throughout the perennial border add a brilliancy that no other flower can provide.

Beauty of Livermere—The finest dark crimson.

Mrs. Perry—Soft salmon rose pink.

Potted plants 25c each, $2.50 doz., $18 per 100.

Daphne cneorum (Garland Flower)

DAPHNE CNEORUM

[Garland Flower]

Without a doubt one of the most popular rock plants introduced in recent years. A dwarf bushy plant which is completely covered with a great profusion of delicately perfumed, rose pink flowers in May and June. It blooms intermittently all summer with a final burst of bloom in September until frost. It makes a very neat border plant for perennials and is equally at home among evergreens. Especially choice for the rockery. Each plant is dug with a small ball of earth.

EVERGREEN FOUNDATION PLANTINGS

The proper selection of varieties is very important. Dwarf, slow growing evergreens, properly spaced, will insure against over-crowding in a few years. Do not be misled into using cheap tall growing varieties. Dwarf evergreens are a most useful class of plants because of their year round attractiveness. They are ornamental as soon as planted and are especially desirable in the winter months. It will be a pleasure for one of our trained men to advise you.

DAPHNE MEZEREUM

A small hardy shrub blooming the latter part of March long before the leaves appear. The stems are closely set with deep red fragrant flowers. Does well in partial shade.

TRUEHEDGE COLUMNBERRY

(Berberis thunbergi pluriflora erecta)

U. S. Plant Patent No. 110—Propagation rights reserved.

A sensational new form of Barberry making an erect and compact hedge with very little trimming.

Truehedge Columnberry has all of the good qualifications of Barberry thunbergi, perfect hardiness and an ability to thrive under all reasonable growing conditions. In addition the plant grows in a uniformly erect and compact manner.

Splendid for specimen planting where a columnar effect is desired, the real value of Truehedge lies in its adaptability to all types of hedge planting, formal and informal.
